

Bill Ritchie BSc (Hons), MSc, CEng, FCIBSE, MIET

Director
Atelier Ten

After setting up the first Whitby Bird office in Scotland in early 2001, Bill has recently joined the Board of Atelier Ten and established a new office in Glasgow.

As a Fellow of the Chartered Institution of Building Services Engineers, he has experience of major public sector projects including schools, housing and hospitals, and commercial projects including offices, shops, cinemas and hotels.

He contributes both to environmental strategies and the detailed design of buildings. His interest in low energy design combines with his experience of project delivery, producing an approach that is informed and innovative. His understanding of ever changing legislation has led to his participation on several industry committees and represents the BCO on the Scottish Property Federation's Building Standard's Committee.

Bill works closely with clients and architects and maintains close relationships with the supply chain as a means to improve details and keep abreast of industry developments.

Qualifications: BSc (Hons) Industrial Engineering, MSc Building Services Engineering, Chartered Engineer, Fellow - Chartered Institution of Building Services Engineers, Member - Institution of Engineering Technology, Committee Member of Scottish Chapter of British Council of Offices, Member Scottish Committee of the British Council of Shopping Centres.
