

Gary Wingrove

---

Head of Construction Programme Management
BT

Gary Wingrove is Head of Construction Programme Management at BT, where he oversees the delivery of all capital construction projects globally. He is responsible for managing the construction of new facilities, rationalising and refurbishing the existing portfolio whilst delivering efficiencies and cost savings within building programmes, and managing BT's relationship with outsourced service partners on capital expenditure projects.

Gary previously was a Director at UBS where he led the programme management of strategic real estate projects having previously set up and headed the cost management team and, prior to that, was Head of Cost Management for Morgan Stanley, working on capital projects within EMEA.